Canadian Infantry And Tanks Make Contact With German Armour—Allies Use Rocket Ships—Newspaper With Invasion Force Says "West Wall" Is "Biggest Bluff"—Fly Machines To France—Eisenhower Confident Of Success

By CANADIAN PRESS

LONDON—Canadian infantry and armor have made their first contact with German armor as the advancing Allies prepare for an expected enemy counter-attack. War Correspondent Ross Munro of the Canadian Press discloses for the first time that Canadian tanks are taking part in the invasion. He says the Canadian infantrymen and tank corps personnel are pushing inland.

FIERCE FIGHTING SOUTH OF BAYEUX

The Supreme Allied Headquarters announced that Allied invasion troops have struck south of fallen Bayeux in fierce fighting today in Normandy. Our soldiers are constantly being reinforced by air and sea. They are striving to chop off the Cherbourg peninsula of France, and Berlin reports a pincer movement to seize the tip of the jutting coast and its strategic port of Cherbourg.

ALLIED DIVISIONS ONLY 10 MILES APART

Enemy accounts indicate that battle is raging over the Cherbourg peninsula at several points along that forty-five mile strip of land from captured Bayeux to the cape that points toward Britain north of Cherbourg. The enemy dispatches indicate that only a ten mile gap remains to be closed by beachhead forces driving south of Bayeux and airborne troops landed on the western coast of the Cherbourg peninsula and a juncture of these two forces would nip off the peninsula and give the Allies the great port of Cherbourg.

NEW LANDINGS BERLIN SAYS

Berlin broadcasts have told of new landings, unconfirmed from the Allied side, on the tip of the peninsula north of Cherbourg. According to Berlin, the latest air and airborne landings have taken place to east of the town of Asnelles, five miles south of the little town of St. Mere Eglise where British airborne fighting is raging between American and German troops.

ADMIT ALLIES 7 MILES INLAND

Last night's landings, again according to the enemy, were concentrated on the Asnelles, Arromanches and Ouistreham sectors, a twenty-four mile stretch of beach north of Bayeux. The enemy acknowledges that our forces are already driven inland. Headquarters has mentioned only Bayeux and the city of Caen. The battle between them has been cut at several points.

USE ROCKET SHIPS

The British Information Services said today that rocket ships are being used in the invasion. The announcement was made when the war correspondents were devalued as members of the Canadian press corps of 1942 and were used in Tuesday's invasion of France to dislodge the last pockets of resistance that have been much more quiet than has ever been done before by a warship. The assault first landed in Normandy, landing fast. They are described as "flying tanks." They are described as "British as a British naval secret weapon."

PLANES HAVE ROCKET GUNS

Canadian airmen scored a great success against enemy naval forces last night and early today. A C.A.P. pilot has destroyed a German destroyer and damaged two others in an attack on enemy ships in the Bay of Biscay. An Army transport craft was also hit in the same attack by Canadian airmen. Three Canadian aircraft attacked again and left one destroyer in flames. The Canadian planes were armed with rocket guns.

DEFENCE WALL "A BLUFF"

A correspondent for the combined Allied press, Richard Macmillan, is with the Allied invading forces in France. He has written in his opinion of the Nazi Atlantic wall of defense. Macmillan says that the defense wall simply does not exist. The war correspondent terms it "the Nazi defenses' 'the biggest bluff of the war.' He quoted some German prisoners as saying that the Nazis had been trying frantically to complete defenses but that the task had been too vast for them.

NAZI PRISONERS ARRIVE

The first contingents of German prisoners captured in the invasion of France have arrived in England. A London broadcast quotes a German major petty officer as saying that the Nazis had not the faintest idea that the Allies would land on June 6. The German soldier said that his first warning of the invasion came when he was blown out of his bunk by a terrific air raid. There were some stretches of sleep among the group. Most of the captured Germans were extremely young boys.

COXSWAIN WILLIAM LEE

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Lee, 24, of Oshawa, who was a member of one of the Canadian manned landing craft which took part in the invasion of France on June 6. Lee, a Coxswain, Staff Writer, Alan Wickson reported the following account of what he saw in the van: "The craft was hot and crowded when we started out from the Royal Victoria Dock. We had to leave the van at the head of the beachhead and get into a small boat. After four mortar shells exploded nearby, it returned to the van and was repaired while the soaked crews dried dry clothes, ate and then retraced a path to the beachhead for a special job."

Three Men Die In Rail Crash

By Canadian Press

KAPUSKASING — Three men were killed yesterday and five others were injured because a cat ran on the track. The train, en route to the Spanish Fly Flax and Paper Company north of Kapuskasing, had stopped to let the engine cool when a boy ran onto the rear of the train and was killed. The boy, 12, was hit by a rock and debris when the train, which had been delayed by a railway motor speeder, pulled a long train of loaded cars. The boy died instantly and the third died before reaching here. The dead are George Matress, a railway foreman; Alphonse Lafrance, a switchman, who had been married next week, and a man named Gilbert. Five others are in hospital here while two members of the crew were uninjured.

REPORT

This morning the Oshawa-Guelph received a number of telephone calls enquiring whether HMCS "Oshawa" had arrived in Oshawa Harbour. It is expected that the ship will arrive on June 10. The German soldier said that his first warning of the invasion came when he was blown out of his bunk by a terrific air raid. There were some stretches of sleep among the group. Most of the captured Germans were extremely young boys.

With the pleasant weather continuing today, it is expected that many hundreds of Oshawa citizens will turn out to see the first band concert of the season. The program has been chosen by J. Broadbent, the musical director of the Oshawa Civic Band and the amateur artist will be Lyons Hunt Mungen, accompanied by Mary McBrady as her accompanist.

This season will be the third since the band was presented to the city by Col. R. S. McLaughlin. The tremendous crowds which have thronged the

Says Ancient Kingdom Fostered Hate Without And Arrogance Within

C.P.R. Steamship Executive Tells Rotary Of Glory And Magnificence Of Former Ancient Kingdom South of the Burma Road — Wonderful Palaces and Temples

A graphic historical description of what he termed the eighth wonder of the world, the ruins of the former ancient kingdom, historically, was the Kingdom of Angkor, south of the Burma Road, visited Tuesday by Eric W. Thompson, general agent of the Canadian Pacific Steamship Lines, who, according to Mr. Thompson made a tour of the world in the famous ship, Empire of Canada, last summer. The port of call was Lhasa, and it was on this trip that he visited the ruins that indicate the existence of a once-great and advanced civilization, with modern cities and extensive commerce, right in the heart of the Orient.

The speaker, introduced by Rotarian Alex Bell, based his address on the subject, "The Kingdom of Angkor," a great mystery much in the public eye today and on the war maps of the world.

He described the beautiful and historic spots visited on the world tour led up to his story of the Kingdom of Angkor, which, he stated, was first reported to the modern world through two men, one of whom was a Frenchman, the other, who reported having seen some gigantic and ornate ruins, consisting of palaces and temples which they thought might have been built by Alexander the Great or Rome.

He said that the actual discovery and preservation of these ruins are attributed to Mr. Thompson's French naturalist who first visited it in 1860, at which time he reported all traces of life had perished into oblivion, although tradition maintained that Angkor had been the capital of a kingdom that counted 120 cities and an army of five million soldiers.

Tax Payments For 1944 Being Paid In Advance In Whitby Township

Township Council Learns—Citizens Interview Council On Drainage Problems
—Grant of $25.00 Made To South Ontario Agricultural Society

A regular meeting of the Council of Township of Whitby was held on Saturday afternoon, June 3rd, with a full membership in attendance. Mr. D. J. Keen, although not fully recovered from his recent illness, was able to resume his duties.

Several members of the village of Brookville, including the following: Meers A. C. Elliott, E. Macpuff, G. W. H. Harkness, and the Norman Gibson, interviewed the council with regard to drainage problems in their respective areas on Brookville Road.

Fortunately, the County Engineer, Mr. D. J. Keen, was present and was able to give exact information in connection with submitting plans for the improvement of drainage on the said streams which the members had in view.

Mr. Werner Lynde was heard regarding damage to his property which he also was experiencing grading on roads.

Mr. Keen also presented his report on the drainage problem between Lots 18 and 19, Concession 3, which has been a source of trouble for many years past.

On account of the nature of this clay or mud, excavation of which was begun in 1907 by the French government, the capital city, was held up for a number of years.

At present, work on this project is expected to be commenced shortly.

A grant of $25.00 to the South Ontario Agricultural Society was authorized.

Mr. G. W. H. Harkness, Assessor, was appointed to a committee of the Association of the Assessing Officers of Ontario, to be held in Toronto during the latter part of June.

General accounts to the amount of $293 and non tax account of $409 were presented for payment.

Tax payments for the year 1944 are coming in very satisfactorily.

It is anticipated that the first instalment is not due until June 30th next. About 1000 tax returns have been submitted over in instalments. This is a very healthy sign reflecting the improved position of the ratepayers.

The next meeting of the council will be held on Saturday, July 1st.

This meeting has been called for a week later than usual owing to the celebrations on July first.

Church Brevities

Next Sunday will be Children's Day in Whitby Baptist Church when the special speaker will be Rev. Lester Johnson. Services will be of a very special character.

St. Andrew's Church, which has been undergoing extensive interior improvements, will be re-opened on Sunday, June 18th. The services and re-dedication will be held. A further announcement will be made in Saturday's paper.

Rev. A. G. Wilson, of Holy Trinity Anglican Church, will have charge of both services at St. Andrew's Church on Sunday next.

Obituary

FREDERICK JOHN STODDARD
At his home 407 Wall Street, on Tuesday, the death occurred suddenly of Frederick John Stoddard, beloved wife of Ida Gibbons in his 70th year. He was a man of the best of a number of years.

He was born in Grand Bend, County of Huron, and for many years farmed in the west, coming to Whitby 18 years ago from Southey, Ontario. He was a man of a quiet nature but one who was kind and retained many friends who regret his sudden passing. He was a member of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church.

Frederick is survived by his wife, the former Ida Gibbons, whom he married in 1913; three sons, Donald, Kenneth Johnson, serving with the Canadian Army in Russia; and Robert, serving in Toronto; and one daughter, Irene (Mrs. Hugo) of Kingston, also a soldier in the West and a sister in Galt.

The funeral will be held on Friday afternoon, with service at the home of the deceased, served by Rev. David Marshall of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church. Interment will take place in Mount Lawn Cemetery.

One sago palm tree, produced enough fruit to keep a native of the Dutch East Indies alive a year.

IMPOSE FINE FOR SELLING ONIONS OVER CEILING

Magistrate Ebbs Finds Technical Breach of Price Regulations

Charged with having sold onions at a wholesale price higher than is permissible under price ceiling legislation before the end of the year, Frank Gerace, 48 Richmond Street West, who pleaded not guilty, was convicted yesterday by Magistrate F. S. Ebbs who assessed him with a nominal fine of $10 and costs with a suspended sentence of 100 hours alternative sentence. The fine was paid.

"Apparently there was a technical breach in the regulations and so I must find you guilty of this charge," remarked Magistrate Ebbs who told the accused that he would impose a nominal fine.

Summoned as a Crown witness, Carmelo Scaglione, who operated a small grocery business at 780 Simcoe Street, South, testified he bought onions from Gerace on Friday, June 5, with the Canadian Army price of 10 cents per pound.

Onions were listed as a Crown item. He stated he had a bill of exchange on Mr. Gerace for $100. On soldiers' pay slips which indicated that he bought a 50-pound bag of onions from Gerace, Defence Counsel J. C. Anderson, K.C., called attention to the fact that the same time the bill was dated January 20 and there was no mark on the pay slip.

Frank Bunting, Wartime Prices and Trade Board investigator, was present and will appear before the coroner's inquest to give evidence on behalf of the government.

Knew Answer

"He knew the answer," said Mr. Anderson, "but he was not asked to give it." The defence counsel referred to last week's hearing of the Gerace case at which Prices Board investigators had asked him if he knew what you are asked for the proper selling price for onions is arrived at?"

Mr. Anderson said he had no objection to repeat his answer.

"This morning, but not the other morning," commented Magistrate Ebbs.

"The man going to refuse to give any evidence unless I allowed to use my notes," said Mr. McCull, who Defence Counsel Anderson produced their use. Mr. McCull was about to begin figuring out the price of onions.

"I know the answer, one in that department know the price of something," remarked Magistrate Ebbs.

"It is a mere matter of mathematics," said Mr. McCull. "Crown Attorney Amis: 'If you don't want Mr. McCull to refuse, I'd like you to furnish me with your notes.' I commenced reading Wartime Prices regulations and Defence Counsel Anderson objected, pointing out that defence witness was in the witness box."

"I have no objection, witness with the witness first." His argument took the Crown. By this time Mr. McCull had commenced figuring the price of onions from Leamington to Oshawa. The figure he arrived at was soon at his elbow to assist him.

Not An Expert

"Who is the expert?" asked the Food Department, who selected Magistrate Ebbs. "This man is not an expert," he continued, glancing at Mr. McCull. "In other words, he is not expert to testify in these matters."

"An expert isn't needed to figure out these prices," replied the Crown attorney. "It is a simple matter of math in mouth and from place to place."

Mr. McCull, with Mr. Anderson still on his side, was still busy computing prices of onions, sitting in the witness box. His efforts met with success.

"He was doing wrong, why wasn't he warned about it?" asked Mr. Anderson in urging dismissal of the charge.

In presenting a conviction, Crown Attorney Amis said that there was no valid reason for Gerace's onion price. "In his defense he has brought direct evidence from the shipper or primary producer,

SPORT SNAPSHOT

Oshawa softball fans who have been waiting for the opening game in the local "Big League" will all be on hand at Alexandra Park tomorrow (Friday) evening to see the first game of the "Big Four" League, the Oshawa City & District Softball Association's 1945 group. They try the 1st off tomorrow night at Alexandra Park and as the men's softball division has been closed since April 1st, there is no yet more, the opening game will be played in front of the grandstand on the big diamond. President Johnny Brady announces that the stage is all set for the opening ceremonies, which will take place tomorrow evening, sharp at seven o'clock. His Worship, Mayor Gordon Davis, will be present at the opening, as will the Oshawa City & District Softball Association, which is in charge of the "Big Four" League. R. B. "Bob" Reddoch, chairman of the Local Parks Commission, will do the receiving behind the plate. The batter will be J. B. "Jim" Whitby, well-known local sports enthusiast, who is one of this city's leading boosters for all kinds of sport. League President Johnny Brady will officiate as umpire.

After "J. B." has circled the first pitch over into his own back yard or "His Worship" has bressed three paces him into "Bob" Reddoch's big mitt for the first strikeout of the season, the "Big Four" League will be open for business. A committee of the 1944 Oshawa Launchers and Oshawa Merchants, will open the Oshawa Colis, 1944 Provincial Championship, in the big opening game tomorrow night. Local softball fans who can recall the sensational 7-game final series for the local league championship last summer, that went the limit before Payroll clinched a 4-3 win in the deciding game, will hope that Payroll will do the same this year. According to all reports the Oshawa Billiards are a much stronger club than last year's Oshawa Laundry team. Oshawa Colis have 16 members of last year's championship club back in uniform with "Red" Jevillew, "Whitey" Morris and Ted McCallum wearing shiny blue jerseys. The 1944 Billiards team, which was beaten in the final, showed up with "Dolby" Dalton taking care of second-base, "Lettie" Thompson and "Red" Demeter, only newcomer to the club, are ready to take care of the 1st-base duties and the rest of the positions are filled except for both teams have been practicing hard in preparation for the opening game and each team will be get off on the right foot with a silver collection will be taken by league officials.

Saturday afternoon and another big "opening day" affair at Alexandra Park. This time it's the Oshawa Minor Baseball Association pitting the Bill off their 1944 Juvenile League, a 6-team group that includes four Oshawa teams, Victoria, Coca-Cola, Arenas and Weston's Dairy, along with Whitby and Bowmanville. The Association president, Frank McCallum, together with his executive committee, have been working hard to make the opening a success. Incidentally, final arrangements will be cleared up at a meeting in the Council Chambers this evening. All teams are urged to have their representatives on hand and, of course, all executive members are expected to attend. This year Juvenile race is expected to be very close, with the Victoria team being the favorite. Weston's Dairy and strong entries from Whitby and Bowmanville. The opening "day" ceremonies are scheduled to get under way Saturday afternoon sharp at 2:15 o'clock. His Worship, Mayor Gordon Davis and President Frank McCallum will officiate, with one other, not yet determined, to be named. Oshawa sport fans, especially "hardball" enthusiasts, have been expressing their desire to see baseball back in Oshawa. Well, here's their chance to prove their interest and sincerity by turning out and giving the Minor Association some support on Saturday afternoon.

The Saturday evening will be a distinguished one, two 7-inning games bring together three of the local clubs and the Whitby Juveniles. In the first game of the afternoon, Coca-Cola will meet Weston's Dairy, "Cokes," runners-up last year, still have 7 members of last year's team. Coach "Dy" Dell, a veteran baseball enthusiast of this city, has returned to team to be "Red" Jack Langford, outstanding pitcher of last season, has been with Coca-Cola since the start of the year and with his experience, we should be a strong contender. In the second game, Arenas, another team back again from last year's group and headed by Mr. "Al" Backmeier, will meet the new entry from Whitby. Arenas have added replacements and are highly regarded in the local field. While Mr. Backmeier has been called out to provide photo prints of trophy for them, they are available for the pitching ace. Quantrell was headed to be the sensation of the local Juvenile league last year until an unfortunate accident cost him the loss of a foot and part of his leg. With commendable courage and pluck, he has overcome this terrible handicap and is now ready to take his place on the pitcher's mound for Whitby's cause. Oshawa minor baseball fans will give young Quantrell a standing welcome.

Victors will open the season for Bowmanville down there next week, likely on Friday night. Victors, the 1945 champs, should be a real treat for the local baseball fans who are bringing the game back down in town this year. We don't forget, sport fans. Saturday afternoon at Alexandra Park, 2:15 sharp, and they'll likely sell a ticket at the gate, which besides entitling you to see the twin bill and feel that you are helping to put amateur baseball back on its feet in Oshawa, will also give you a chance to buy a concession price on Saturday afternoon. Come on out and give the kids the support they need and give the men who are working to keep "hardball" alive in Oshawa the support they deserve.

SPORT SPORTS—We would like to have been one of the lucky winners of the "double double" at Bradford Park yesterday! Or wouldn't you know what to do with more than $10,000.00? ... With the golf, yachting, bowling and archery seasons all opened, most of the softball leagues already in action, the "Big Four" League opening tomorrow, the local summer season is off and about in high gear. ... Speaking of golf, don't forget the Red Cross golf tournament at the Canadian Golf Club in Saturday afternoon. There are prizes for both men and women, low net scores, hidden hole prizes etc., then there's a dance in the evening. Total proceeds go to the Red Cross, via the Royal Canadian Golf Association, who are supplying some of the prizes. ... Don Daniels, Dudley Densie and Bob McCallum have all been added to the Club House Committee. Incidentally, West End Colis, Eddie McGeorge, Fred Smith and Cyril Luke are lined up on the Standby cap Committee. ... West Plant Bombers defeated North Plant Shippers in a "Union" softball game on Tuesday night and then last night they (Continues in Next Column)

Let Us Uphold With Prayer Our Armies of Liberation

That which we expected, nay feared and dreaded, has come, and the most tremendous enterprise in history is taking place. Mighty armies of liberation have landed in Europe, and the eyes of the world are upon them. The fate of tens of millions of oppressed people depends upon the outcome, and the course of world history for centuries will be decided.

This colossal enterprise affects us closely, as the men who are invading Europe are our men, on the sea, on the land, and in the air. All have loved ones there. We have provided them with all the materials of war. What now can we do on the home front?

Remember our cause—to defend Christian civilization. Patriotism is not enough. At the bottom of all spiritual combat is that of Christianity versus Barbarism. We cannot expect peace and victory apart from our loyalty to God.

Picture our men today. Associate yourselves with them and their cause. Uphold them constantly with the power of prayer. Ask God's blessing on their task, so that through them might come Victory and Righteousness and Peace. In this hour of destiny, may we be worthy of them, brave, unselfish, calm; prepared for sacrifice.

"If we break faith . . . they shall not sleep." God grant we may not fail.

Commendable Service

The speed and vicious strength of the twisting wind that struck Oshawa on Friday evening carried reminders of the dismemberment of the town in the wake of bombing raiders. While there was no loss of life or entirely demolished buildings, many streets were blocked by fallen trees, bricks, poles and wires. Power was off in some places for most of the night. Streets were flooded, sewers backed up and in some areas the lack of street and house lighting gave the eerie effect of a complete "black-out".

We were impressed with this as we listened to the "clap-clap" of axes, while the men of the city and public services worked through the hours of darkness without halt in order to restore conditions to normal. They worked hard at clearing trees and poles to the boulevards in order to make way for traffic and give access to houses. Men followed in the wake of storm. Where clearance could not be immediately given, barricades and suitable warning lights were set up. Drains were also cleared so that had another storm broken out, at least the catch-basins would have been workable at the outset.

The Public Utilities men did an excellent job in re-routing their power lines so that most of the light was on again by 2.00 a.m. The same type of work was done by the Telephone Company.

We are inclined to take for granted the daily tasks of these men, but here, from natural causes was something outside of routine. Their work was a good example of co-operative effort and in this tribute we are voicing the thanks of our fellow citizens to our public servants for their splendid and effective service.

Unique Movement

In November, 1943, the "Canadians All" Movement was founded at the Chateau Laurier in Ottawa at a meeting of the Polyglots, and the aims of the movement were expressed in the Autumn 1943 issue of the magazine "Canadians All" by Clive H. Cardinal:

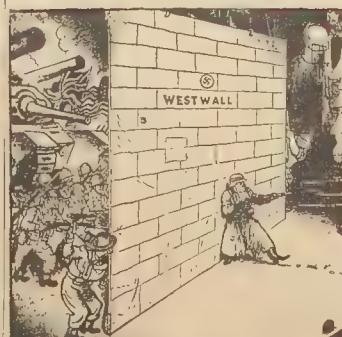

"To penetrate to the root of national and personal problems . . . There is no roundabout escape through mutual admiration societies . . . outward expressions of goodwill . . . these at best can only patch up the deeper national estrangement . . . Out of the tension of this Canadian polyglot panorama must be born a Canadian soul, purged of all the brutalities and equivocations of the past—enriched by the best in the cultural inheritance of its component parts . . . This Canadian soul can, however, arise only by a sincere and patient endeavour to break the wall that divides us from our fellow-citizens, individually and collectively."

In the Spring issue of the magazine "Canadians All", which is now available, the work of the movement is furthered ably and kept before the public. On the editorial advisory board of this periodical are such names as those of Louis Adamic, Watson Kirkconnell, Rabbi Eisenstadt, John Grudek and Prof. L. Biberovich. The editor is J. S. W. Grocholski, LL.B. Such names as these ensure that we have here no fly-by-night endeavour and the appearance of the magazine, which has excellent advertising support, bears this out.

The publication contains works of fiction and many informative articles on the cultures of the various nationalities which make up the population of Canada—Norwegians, Ukrainians, Hungarians, Poles, Finns, Russians and others. Perhaps the most interesting article is the account given of the Vancouver Folk Festival by Mrs. John T. McCay who for the past ten years has directed these festivals which she originated. The illustrations accompanying this article include the Quebec peasant craft display, the Ukrainian handicraft display and one, a silent of the East Indian display. Not forgotten at this festival was the beautiful work of the native Canadians, Indians from the North Vancouver Indian Reserve.

Two appeals we think worthy of repetition have been made last week by Mountie Major Howe and Canadian physician Dr. J. C. McLean. Both call for caution on capacity with new vehicles, to avoid accidents. Their present advice is to keep in operating condition, replacing worn out parts; limiting operating speeds; avoiding overloading and keeping correct fuel distribution. Regarding possible fuel shortage, communities in winter-burning areas should build up stocks of coal and wood. The coal production subsidy having been extended to Sept. 30, 1944. Even though winter is still midyear in 1944, it was necessary to extend the subsidy to the extent of 150,000 cords.

Canadian research has licked the ground ivy, and the Botany Department of the University of Guelph has given you the solution. Ammonium sulphate, to be applied early in June, will help to increase yields. It's a good fertilizer and keeps soil in good condition. Used as a spray (three-quarters of a pound per gallon of water) treat 100 square feet; it's good for apple and pear trees. It's directed on the plants to be eradicated. The action is a gradual drying up action on the foliage.

The plan under the four-year scheme of the Canadian War Relief Fund, in which the Canadian Kingdoms in essence that will take from Canada as much in the four years as in the past three years, has been completed.

"Your great, gaunt eyes so importance Her soul by the shine of that corpse," says the author of this poem. "My poor wife will raise her phantom woe!" "Any fool it is what I would rather see That old man in his hole, all alone, than this old man in his hole, all alone, for me!" "An—she was one you loved, no doubt Through good and evil, ereth through rain and sun, when we passed all your sun went out?"

has been drastically reduced by heavy domestic feeding and large exports to the United States. With capacity approaching that of 1943, the market is saturated. The price of dried oats and barley sowings this spring, it is encouraging to see that eastern provinces crops are off to a good start. As the prices of oats are increased, it must be remembered in this connection that to feed livestock and poultry, in the eight provinces, cost $1.60 per bushel, that 59,000,000 bushels of oats and barley, 17,000,000 bushels of wheat, went to the Federal Grain Commission, the Federal Freight Assistance Board.

A total of 10,365,692 pounds of Canadian wool was graded in government laboratories in 1943. The total value of the wool produced in 1943 was $18,623,000,000. Over 1943, Eastern grown wool produced was about the same as the previous year, so the increase was entirely in western-grown wool.

Steelworkers Awaiting Department Decision On Conciliation Board

F. J. Ainsborough, Federal Labor Commissioner, Will Attend Joint Management—Union Meeting Here Friday At Fitings Limited

Work is being awaited by the United Steelworkers of America from the federal department of labor on its application for appointment of a conciliator who will decide on its proposal that union shop and dues deduction clauses be written into agreements with Fitings Limited and Metal Manufacturing Co. and the Pedlar People Ltd.

All three cases have been heard by the Ontario Labor Relations Board which has in turn submitted them to the federal department of labor.

M. J. Fenwick, U.S.A. representative, said he expected H.R. Humptree, attorney for administration of labor, to order appointment of the boards shortly.

"We believe the time is opportune for the management in the three plants and our local unions to advance their demands by showing that all employees should be members of the Union," he said.

"At present some grievances are not met but we feel it is the cause of discord and disharmony in the shops," Fenwick claimed. "We want to do something by seeking the enrollment of all employees in the Union."

"After all, our organization under the provisions of our collective bargaining agreements receives benefits," he continued. "We ask that all employees also assume the responsibility of establishing their bargaining agency."

Decided To Compromise

Last minute attempts at conciliation were off the department of labor in the case of Pedlar People and Ontario Metal Manufacturing Co., but both firms failed to compromise and the matter was left in the hands of Messrs F. J. Ainsborough and J. P. Nicoll, federal commissioners, to report the situation to the federal minister of labor.

Mr. Ainsborough will present Friday at a joint management-union meeting at Fitings Limited.

Former Oshawa Squadron Leader Led Fighter Units

Columnist Pays Glowing Tribute To Modesty And Courage Of Wing Commander Lloyd Chadburn

By TERRY FRAYNE

Toronto, June 7—When they asked about it, nobody was surprised to learn that Captain Chadburn and Freddie Green led the first waves of fighter planes over the invasion front in Europe. They were the men, in fact, rather expected it.

Chad and Freddie were listed in a list of 1000 who had been awarded the D.F.C. during the following April. He was through both the British and Italian campaigns after being promoted to wing commander. He is in the 1st Can. Corps Lorne Scots Defence Company. Before going overseas he had his basic training at Borden, Ontario, and at Chedabucto, Nova Scotia, where he received his D.F.C. training at Borden. Prior to his enlistment he was employed by his father at the Victory Billiard Association, a member of the local reserve army.

He has Rafees on Tongue

Let's look at them a little closer, digging back to June 1st, 1942, when the first wave of 1000 men went overseas.

He is a serious, sincere fellow when the mood strikes him. He is 27 years old, but just as much, too. He talks about a pilot's leave in the same way he does about a Saturday night. Like all pilots, he has Rafees on Tongue, but it's cause and unfeigned.

"I'm not going to tell you for the guys on the ground. I was over eight times, escorting bombers. Once I was shot down and my gear went down and Jerry was tumbling past us all the time. I wasn't more than 500 feet up in the day, so I knew that when I was like yesterday... or today... or will be tomorrow."

He doesn't like "debutantes."

He says: "When you switch over to Chadburn you find the same type of fellow. Ask him about his decorations and say the D.F.C. came out with the rations and comes out that the D.F.C. is a prettier ribbon than the Immortal Order about his service ribbon: 'I came for voting for Mackenzie King. Of course, Mackenzie didn't get grinded.' That's my Wilkesburg."

He doesn't want to talk about himself and he isn't making notes like one of those pseudo-modest types either. He just likes to talk about his wing commander Chadburn by grinning and handing out an impossible answer.

He goes to Chadburn:

Fit. Lt. Jack Rae, D.F.C., Toronto, who flew with Chadburn overseas once voluntary, the stick-soldier, is 20 years old.

"When I was flying with the Guy of Oshawa Squadron, there wasn't a guy who ever asked Chad where we were going. When he told us we were going to Normandy we jumped for joy. We didn't care where. If he was leading us we just naturally tag along."

What Chadburn's decorations are talking about when they refer to a man's "qualities of leadership" is a secret, but Chadburn and Lloyd Chadburn and hundred of other young Canadians are throwing at Hitler today.

FINISHES COURSE AS PARATROOPER

John Henderson Received Silver Wings At Shilo, Manitoba

The third Canadian man to pass the native winged test of the Canadian Paratroopers is Pte. John Henderson, 24, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Henderson, Victoria Arms, who completed all his training jumps and sometime last week when the commandant of Camp Shilo, Manitoba, pinned the wings on his uniform.

After his graduation he received a 10-day leave and used the extra time for him to travel home so he visited the city of Winnipeg. He expects a furlough in the near future and will return to camp when he is still at Camp Shilo, Manitoba.

Enlisting in the Royal Canadian Air Force Corp in February, 1943, at Toronto, he received his training at Toronto, Kingston, Brockville and Hamilton before he became a paratrooper and went to Winnipeg and then to Shilo for his training.

A native of Scotland he has lived in Canada for eight years and was an employee of the General Motors tool and die department, at Kitchener, Ontario, before he received his education at South Simcoe Public School and the O.C.V.I. and is a member of the Camelot Club.

He has two sisters Margaret and Betty, Mrs. Wilson, both living in Oshawa.

Here are some of the racks at G.M.C. that hold hundreds of bicycles. These bicycle racks are neatly painted and most of the bicycles appear to be kept in good repair. On Division Street yesterday at noon it was indeed a sight to see the droves of cyclists cycling down towards King Street. In pre-war days a large number of these workers would probably have been riding in automobiles but today in Oshawa they are getting back and forth "on time" with the use of bicycles. Some of these pictures show a few of the hundreds of Oshawa men and women who ride to work. Many public and high school pupils also find their "bikes" handy to get around on.

A C.C.M. Bicycle

WE BUILD IT ACCURATELY OF GOOD MATERIALS

YOU KEEP IT OILED AND THE TIRES PUMPED HARD

A C.C.M. BICYCLE is an accurately made and durably finished machine, composed of the most suitable materials throughout.

It will carry you about in your business, to and from school or in private life at no expense and with but little effort.

In the three fast moving parts or bearings of a C.C.M. Bicycle—Front Hub, Coaster Brake, Sprocket Hanger—special steels are used and are heat-treated to give extra hardness and longer life to the bicycle.

Having done everything that 45 years of experience in making Bicycles has taught us, we pass on to you, the rider of a C.C.M., this beautiful piece of precise mechanism. It is then prudent for you, and will pay you in terms of years of trouble-free riding, to keep your C.C.M. Bicycle well and regularly oiled and greased, the tires pumped hard at all times.

If you need a Bicycle as essential transportation, go to your nearest C.C.M. dealer and complete a Bicycle Purchase Application Form. Although Bicycles are rationed, still larger quantities of materials are being made available to provide for essential users.

OVER THE BACK FENCE
with MARY NOBES

As a general rule Canadian people take any restrictions in their stride and say "Klimax" or something. But sometimes certain restrictions just get in the way. I can't imagine butter sticks in the crop and you hear a lot of people complain. "After all, Canada is a country of immigrants, and my children, and yet you shall hear something that will prove a surprise to you no doubt and that is that the same butter must be rationed in Canada. And after the explanation I am sure they won't be one word of complaint."

A letter received in Toronto in the week announced that the ten million Red Cross prisoner of war parcel went out from the Toronto packing centre on June 10. The 26th member of this group is only one of five such packing centres in Canada and all are doing the same work. We hope that each package box was packed it brought the total of supplies used in prisoner of war boxes to ten million pounds of butter and tea, which has been shipped to our lids and other Allies who are prisoners in Germany, Italy and Japan. It is interesting to note that many boxes then just in private of war boxes we have exported fifty million pounds of butter.

If we had never changed our butter rationing that would be equal to the amount of butter consumed by a family of five in four months. We could have supplied the same amount of butter to nearly every citizen of Canada with the amount which has gone to prisoners of war from Toronto alone. This is the 1942 case. Now the population of Canada which was 11,507,000

Multiply the butter used in all the packing exports and you have more than a million and a half for Canada. Adds up doesn't it... particularly when you consider the amount we export to England. So when the butter ration is cut in order to stimulate a surplus in

LIFE INSURANCE MUCH INCREASED IN YEARS OF WAR

$147,000,000 Was Paid
Out To Policyholders
During 1942

Toronto, June 8.—Payments to Canadian life insurance companies and their agents amounted to $147,000,000 during the past ten years to life insurance "an average of $14,700,000 per year." This was due to the fact that 1,000,000 thrifty people, through their agents' "W. M. Morrisons of Waterloo," paid into their Canada Life Insurance Fund on an automatic decreed basis for the protection of the care of the sick, for the re-education of the disabled, and for the payment of the death benefit.

Canada Life, Canada's largest life insurance company, has increased more life insurance than ever before, and now four million Canadians have protection in an amount that is second, as great as was the total life plan of the Dominion government and its members, at the outbreak of the war.

Mr. Mannix continued: "We do not suggest that it is undesirable to take measures of self-protection, but we do believe that it is undesirable to a host measure of self-protection under the auspices of the state. That is, if you have a good life insurance plan, when it is the more fortunate and safe side, for the relief of the less fortunate. That is, if you have a good life insurance plan, then it is better to leave it to the frame of mind to protect other frames of mind by the creation of a general provision that there will be made for

PILOTS UNAWARE OF VICTORY BONDS' EFFECTIVENESS

New Delhi, June 8.—CP—A report of the press on India's return of portions of its Victory Bonds to the U.S. Government, which had been held in trust by the Indian government, was inaccurate, said a spokesman for the U.S. War Department.

Allied troops moving to blow up a bridge on a railway from Mandalay to Myitkyina, where British detachments were then shelling from a nearby wood. Hurricanes have been on stand-by to help "good news," said the report. "150 British infantry were killed and wounded."

Equipment in India's warfare includes a tremendous amount of electrical and mechanical equipment. Besides a multitude of tanks and wheeled vehicles, there are radio and radar, radiolocation, fire control and kindred instruments.

On the night of June 6, 1944, 1,000 British and Indian troops were captured by the Japanese.

AFRICAN REHABILITATION

Nairobi, C.P.—A rehabilitation centre has been started in Kenya

Post War Outlook For Canadian Auto Industry

(A Preliminary Report) Total employment in the Canadian auto industry has increased during the war period approximately $30,000 in the period from 1939 up to the present. In addition to this additional demand, the Armed forces retain the right of immediate re-employment upon their return to civilian life by the Canadian U.A.W.A. Post-War Committee report.

Clearly to allow a sharp peacetime drop in the levels of production and output would open the way to disastrous and long-range unemployment in this industry. Following victory in the war, organized labour cannot and will not permit jobless men and women and insurements insecurity and misery for the men and women whose efforts on the production front have made possible victory. The war experience has demonstrated the productive capacity of Canadian workers and Canadian industry and its capacity after the war must be harnessed to meeting the needs of the Canadian standard of living.

In both Canada and the United States organized labour looks to the post-war period not for a return to the breadlines and the insecurity of the 1930's, but for a continued expansion of the over-all production level to higher levels than those reached during the period of conflict.

Canadian National Income

Since 1939, total Canadian national income has more than doubled, advancing from about $4 billion per year in 1939 to the present total of nearly $9 billion per year. This national income in the United States has advanced at a similar rate, rising from pre-war levels of $70 billion to the 1943 total of $18 billion.

The cost of maintenance in the auto industry depends primarily upon the maintenance of Canadian national income at levels equal to or above those existing prior to the war. Canadian per capita income for Canada must be kept at least to its present average of $780. To allow it to slump to last year's level of $680 would assure economic chaos and misery for the Canadian people. But if we are to maintain our wartime level, Canadian per capita income must lag far behind the 1943 American figure of $1,116. If this is to be done, certain specific social objectives must be accomplished.

(1). The achievement of higher and higher levels of annual earnings for workers in Canadian industry and on Canadian farms.

Vehicles and Supplies Come Ashore!

Cities behind the first waves of the invasion forces come the members of the Canadian Expeditionary Force with supplies of every description. Here is a typical beachhead with the supplies which will make the continuance of the advance possible.

of total national income of 70

The tremendous undeveloped resources in Canada, together with the bottomless demand for goods to meet the post-war requirements, will be directly determined by the general level of prosperity in Canada as well as the per capita decline in prosperity in Canada will be less than was experienced by the United States between 1929 and 1933, when total vehicle production dropped from 260,000 in 1929 to a bare 50,000 in 1933.

Foreign Trade

The second main support to post-war Canadian prosperity and production lies in the field of foreign trade. In proportion to total production, Canadian foreign trade has traditionally bulked larger than that of the United States. Total Canadian exports in 1939 approximated 1.6 billion dollars, about one-third of a national income of $4.5 billion. Exports from the United States totalling somewhat less than 4 billion dollars, or slightly under 6% and a price on a level with that of foreign compellions is necessary if Canada is to increase her markets for automobiles abroad.

Wage Levels and Price Reduction.

The present high cost of automobiles need not offer a threat to union wage standards.

The possibility of the extension of military pay rates to civilian workers will be made a reality. The development of backward nations in Europe, Asia, and South America will be aided too, as described by the Canadian government in its post-war plan.

The need to be undertaken through operation of the United Nations will demand limited quantities of civilian products for long years following the war.

Canadian national policy, basing itself upon firm understanding among all Canadians, and in particular in the world from which the majority of the world's population comes, of the need for a period of world reconstruction, the ability of Canada to maintain and increase these exports is directly dependent upon the fact that Canada's position on the foreign market can be based on lowered price, which means lowered prices.

On two counts, then, the prices of Canadian automobiles must be lowered through the lowering of production costs. A price comparable to that of the United States for cars as equal average income, if Canada is to have the same number of motor vehicles in proportion to population as the United States,

"LEND A HAND" ON THE FARMS

Every citizen of Ontario must face the unpleasant fact that Canada's stockpiles of grains, dairy products and vegetables... of which we had a great surplus four years ago... is almost exhausted.

For four years, Canada has been a "storehouse of food" for her Allies. She must continue to fulfil heavy obligations to them. But the surpluses in the storehouse are gone. They must be replenished. Otherwise, Canadians on the Fighting Fronts... and at home... are likely to be faced with the prospect of short food rations.

THIS YEAR, the crops on Ontario Farms give promise of the heaviest yields of grain, hay, vegetables and fruit in years.

BUT THEY MUST BE HARVESTED AND SAVED... AND THIS IN SPITE OF THE MOST ACUTE SHORTAGE OF FARM WORKERS IN OUR HISTORY.

EVERYONE MUST HELP!

JOIN The Farm Commando Brigades, the Holiday Brigades, Business Men's Groups, Service Club Groups, Neighbourhood Groups, or one of many other organizations, that are preparing to help. LIFE INSURANCE MUCH INCREASED IN YEARS OF WAR

$147,000,000 Was Paid
Out To Policyholders
During 1942

Toronto, June 8—Payments to Canadian life insurance policyholders and their beneficiaries in 1942 amounted to $147,000,000, and in the past ten years to $1,800 million—an average of $600,000 every working day flowing into the pockets of thrifty Canadians and their dependents. W. W. Manning, retiring President of Winnipeg's Life Insurance Officers Association, declared today in Toronto at the annual meeting of the Association.

"During the present war year," he continued, "Canadians have purchased more life insurance than ever before, and now four million Canadians own life insurance for an amount that is actually as great as all the life insurance held by the Dominion, the Provinces and Municipalities combined at the outbreak of the war."

Mr. Manning continued: "It is not suggested by responsible life insurance men that it is undesirable to add more life insurance to one's own maintenance and the care of those who look to him for support. "It appears therefore that the state does not argue that the state is entitled to a portion of the taxes the more fortunate pay, since the taxes are the relief of the less fortunate. They do not assert that there is any possible objection to the framing of legislation which would allow a dual contribution of citizen, from the general revenues of the nation, provision will be made for the improvement of medical health, for the care of the sick, for the relief of poverty and distress.

"What they do assert is that any such scheme must be well prepared and integrated, making provision for a minimum subsistence level for everyone. Life insurance, as a basic and normal acceptance, of the theory that the individual overcomes his environment and contributes to society to enable the industry and thrift which are his enable him to provide as complete a subsistence for himself and his dependents and to society the care of those who look to him for support."

"It appears therefore that the state is entitled to a portion of the taxes the more fortunate pay, since the taxes are the relief of the less fortunate. They do not assert that there is any possible objection to the framing of legislation which would allow a dual contribution of citizen, from the general revenues of the nation, provision will be made for the improvement of medical health, for the care of the sick, for the relief of poverty and distress.

Mr. Manning pointed out:

PILOTS DRAWN ON GUN EFFECTIVENESS

New Delhi, May 31—CPI—Air support of troops on difficult terrain of northern Burma is often far more effective than pilots can tell. When Visual Reconnaissance teams were invited to see the damage done to a bridge on a railway from Mandalay, they found Japanese detachments which began shelling from a nearby wood.

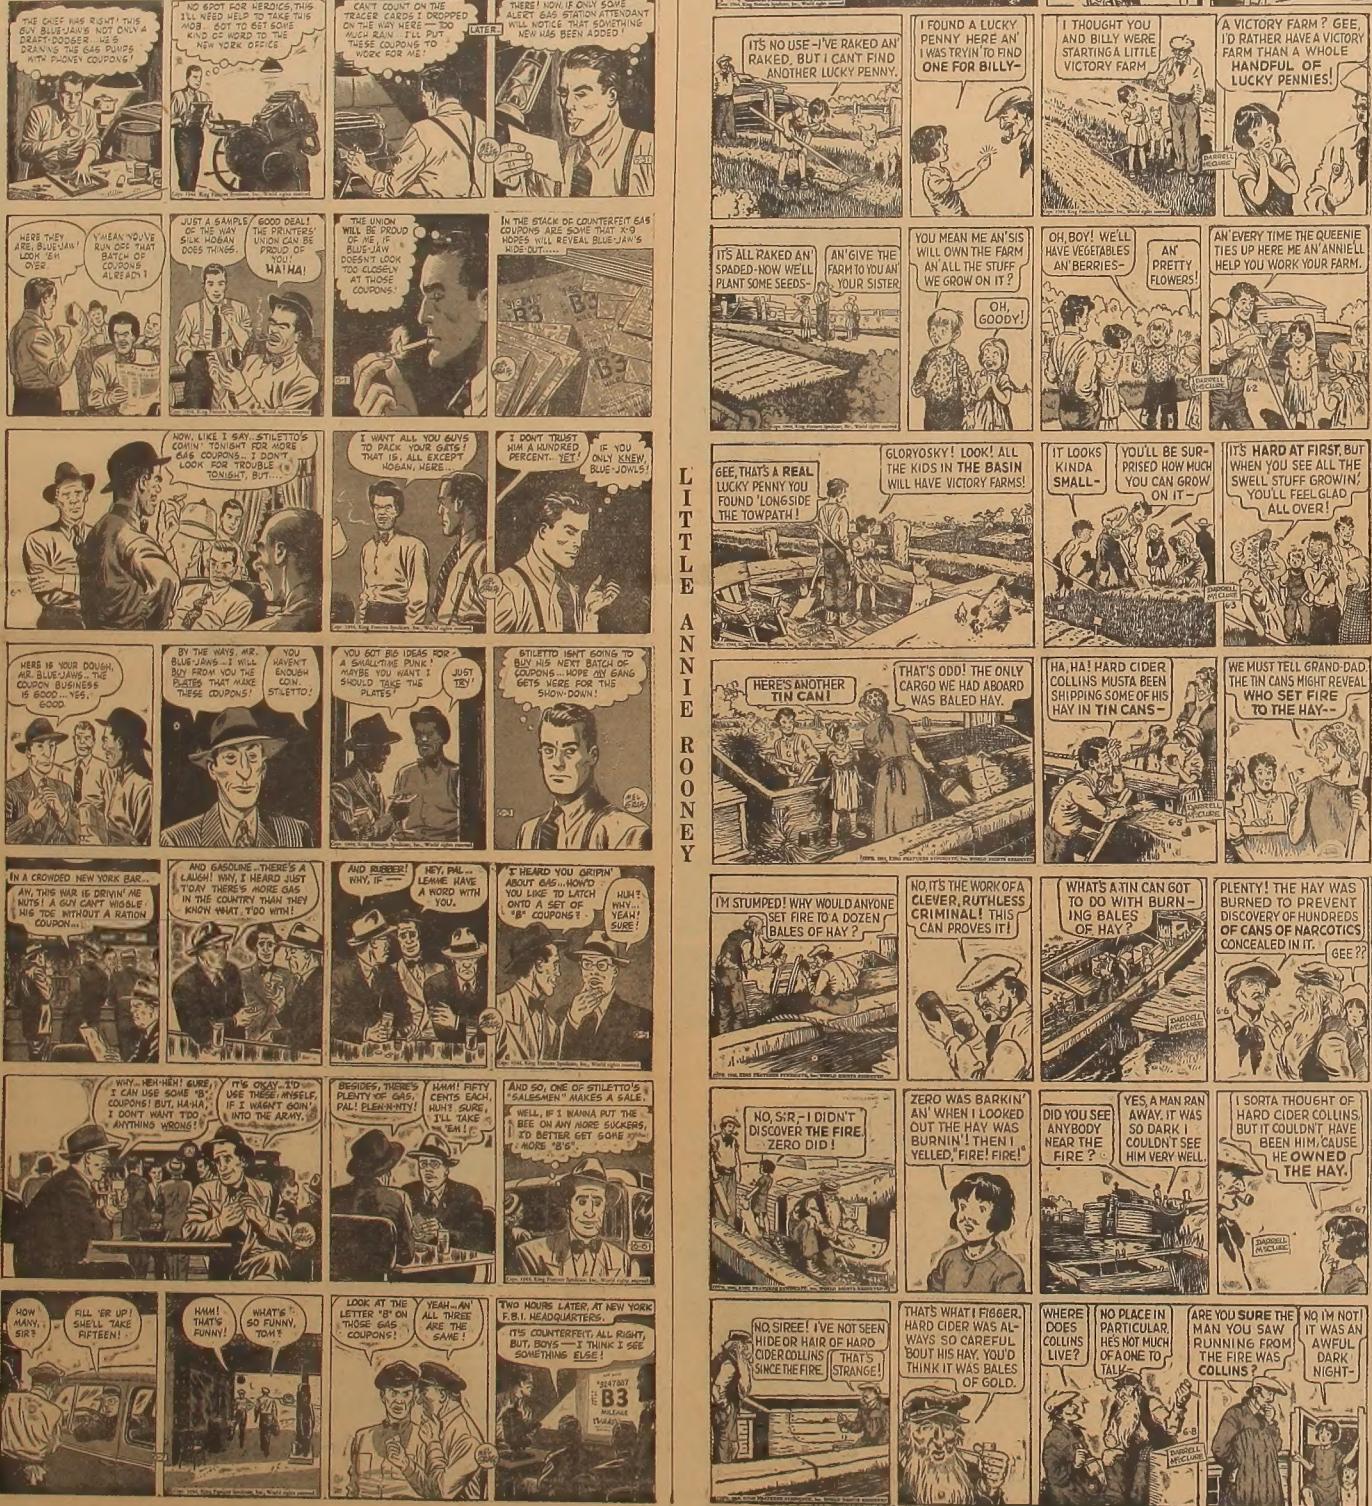

Later, however, when the army intelligence reports came through, their operations were proved to have been outstandingly successful. "Good show," said the reports, "150 Japanese infantry were killed and wounded."

AFRICAN REHABILITATION

Nairobi—CP—A rehabilitation centre has been started in Kenya and is doing valuable work in helping East Africans who have been disabled in the war to overcome their handicaps.

Post War Outlook For Canadian Auto Industry

(A Preliminary Report) Total employment in the Canadian auto industry has increased approximately $10,000,000 in the period from 1939 up to the present. In addition to this substantial increase, the Canadian armed forces retain the right of immediate re-employment upon their return to Canada. The Canadian U.A.W. Post-War Committee reports.

Clearly to allow a clamp back to the present levels of production and output would open the way to disastrous and long-range unemployment among the workers in this industry. Following victory in this war, organized labour cannot and will not continue its efforts and sacrifices and increase its insecurity and misery for the men and women whose efforts on the production front have been so outstanding. The war experience has demonstrated the productive capacity of Canadian workers and Canadian management groups. After the war must be harnessed to meeting the needs of the Canadian people at higher and higher standard of living.

In both Canada and the United States, organized labour looks to the post-war period not for a return to the breadlines and the insecurity of the 1930's, but for a continued expansion of the over-production level to higher levels above those reached during the period of conflict.

Canadian National Income.

Since 1939, total Canadian national income has more than doubled, advancing from about $4 billion per year in 1939 to the present total of nearly $8 billion per year. Total national income in the United States has advanced at the same rate, from the pre-war levels of $7 billion to the 1943 total of $16 billion.

Canadian employment in the auto industry depends primarily upon the maintenance of Canadian national income at levels equal to, or even slightly above, the pre-war level. Any drop in national income must be kept at least to its present average of $7 billion if it is to assure economic chaos and misery for the Canadian people. But even at the present time level, Canadian per capita income lags far behind the 1943 American figure of $14.4. If this is to be remedied, certain social objectives must be accomplished.

(1) The achievement of higher and higher levels of annual earnings for workers in Canadian industry and on Canadian farms.

(2). The tremendous expansion of Canadian purchasing power which would increase purchasing power mean for the Canadian Automobile Industry.

Canada with a population of approximately 11.3 millions, has a total motor vehicle registration of 1.5 million. The United States with a population of 130 million has a total motor vehicle registration including cars, trucks and other vehicles of 30 million.

This means that in Canada there is one motor vehicle for every 7.6 persons while in the United States there is one motor vehicle for every 2.9 persons.

On the basis of the ratio relating the Canadian per capita income to the American level can readily be estimated. If the average Canadian has the same amount of money to spend as the average American, then the Canadian market could bring into the Canadian market Canadian prices can be brought into line with the American level. The number of cars bought and used in Canada would be approximately doubled. In round numbers, this would mean about 3 million vehicles on the road and a yearly production of about 200,000 motor vehicles for the Canadian market.

The Canadian market is based on a pre-war average annual production of 150,000 motor vehicles, of which about one-third were produced for export.

Thus, the rate of production and employment of the auto industry will be directly determined by the general level of prosperity in Canada as an whole. This decline in prosperity in Canada has been too well demonstrated by the reduction in sales for 1943 from 1933, when total vehicles produced dropped from 263,000 in 1933 to a bare 60,000 in 1943.

The second main support to post-war Canadian auto industry and production lies in the field of foreign trade. In proportion to total production, Canadian foreign trade has traditionally bulked larger than following the war.

Canadian national policy, basing itself upon firm and continuing amity with the United Nations, and in the world from which the menace of fascism military aggression has been removed, offers the opportunity for expansion of Canadian export trade above any levels previously imagined.

Finally, in these days, the importance of the export trade to the Canadian automobile industry in particular is obvious when we consider that a large part of Canadian production of motor vehicles was exported, to say nothing of the period of world reconstruction, the ability of Canada to maintain and increase these exports is directly dependent upon the ability to compete on the foreign market on a basis of lowered price, which means lowered cost.

On two counts, then, the prices of Canadian automobiles must be lowered through the lowering of production costs. A price comparable to the American level, or even slightly above average income, if Canada is to have the same number of motor vehicles in proportion to population as the United States.

Vehicles and Supplies Come Ashore

Closely behind the first waves of the invasion forces come the members of the Canadian Corps, supplies and vehicles which will make the continuance of the advance possible.

On total national income of 70 and a price on a level with cost foreign competitors is necessary if Canada is to increase her markets for automobiles abroad.

Wage Levels and Price Reduction.

It is evident that the cost of autos of automobile need not offer a threat to union wage standards.

The possibility of a general strike at home and abroad, especially in the immediate post-war era, could make practical and even essential a general reduction in the cost of production.

Efficiency of production methods resulting in lower costs. Aside from technical improvements, increased output can be achieved by making possible the better organization of the workmen staff.

The cost of production can be reduced by the use of more units of output, again making possible a lower selling price.

Summary.

The summary of Canadian economic activity in the post-war world should be that of achieving per capita income equivalent to that which has been turned out by the United States. This would mean expansion of Canadian national income from present levels of $8 billion to a minimum of $12 billion to $12.8 billion per year. This would mean no contraction but expansion by the tens of thousands in the home country, and general cooperation in the fullest extent with organized labour.

The C.I.B.S. in the United States has planned programs for creating additional national income from present levels of $14.5 billion a year up to levels approaching $20 billion.

Canadian national income and Canadian labour will be of the utmost importance in breaking down barriers toward the achievement of full production and full employment.

Walter Thomson President Of Central Ontario Liberals

Port Hope, June 8—Walter C. Thomson, K.C., of Pickering was elected president of the Central Ontario Liberal Association at a well-attended meeting held here on Monday afternoon. Delegates were present from all parts of the province making up the association and a keynote of enthusiasm and optimism was evident throughout. The new central position was most apparent.

John McLaughlin of Lindsay, the retiring president, presided and on the platform were Hon. J. A. P. F. for Northumberland, Col. Harry Hamilton of Sault Ste. Marie, president of the Ontario branch; Asst. Senator, Senator Rupert Davies of Kingston and William Dwyer of Kingston. Hon. Secretary.

Also during the afternoon were the president-elect, Col. Hamilton, Mr. A. Frazee and Bruce McNeil, M.P., and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Johnston.

Annual Meeting

Central Hamilton announced that the annual meeting of the Ontario Liberal Association will be held in Toronto on June 28, and it was decided that the election of a new president would be held either in Peterborough, Belleville or Lindsay, when Prime Minister Mackenzie King will be in town to speak. The election will be held in spite of the opposition being placed in its way by the other parties.

"There have been no favours given, there have been no scandals, and there have been no five per cent increases in salaries," said Mr. Thomson. "All through this war has worked, in spite of all the price waving, inflation, and price controls, we have a government that is doing a good job. We have a good government in Ottawa, the only government courageous enough to continue to stand up to the opposition in spite of the opposition being placed in its way by the other parties."

Senators Robert Davies, also spoke, and on the list of officials elected: President, Walter C. Thomson of Pickering; Lt. Col. president, Bruce McNeil of Lindsay; Vice-president, Mr. Harold Davies of Kingston; secretary, William Dwyer of Kingston; treasurer, Sam D. Dwyer.

He urged the gathering to be big, generous and not so critical, for there was a way to be won and controls were necessary. If the Allies won the war, the same principles which Canadians are kicking about today are in force in Great Britain, United States and Russia. The situation supporting the Allies caused "Ottawa government has done a

Nurse Says Child Allowed Out Of House During Illness

Treatment in the case of Herbert T. Elliott, 89 Nassau Street, who is charged, as head of the household, with allowing three-year-old George Scott to leave the house on April 26 and May 29 without the consent of the medical officer of health, who said the child was quarantined in a whooping cough epidemic, may not win in the next election and forecast that the only party able to form a government after the election will be the Conservatives. We have a good government in Ottawa, the only government courageous enough to continue to stand up to the opposition in spite of the opposition being placed in its way by the other parties."

Mr. A. Fraser told the gathering that the testifying nurse, Miss Finnermore, said she gave the child a hypodermic one day but was not allowed to do so on a second occasion.

Says Treatment Refused

"When we went the second time, they would not let us give him treatment," said the testifying nurse. Miss Finnermore stated the child was out of the house during the quarantine period on two occasions, April 26 and May 29, the latter date when the child was removed and this was a breach of the regulations, she said.

State Attorney, L. Slaght testified that Elliott had used abusive language and slammed the door on Dr. Graham when he called on the child's grandmother concerning breach of the regulations.

Miss Finnermore testified that in the course of May 11 as a result of an examination she conducted that the child was suffering from whooping cough. Dr. R. G. Graham, medical officer of health, advised her concerning the case on May 29. Miss Finnermore stated, and at this time Mr. Mangan protested against the introduction of "hearsay evidence."

"All right, Mr. Mangan, I am going to object when there are objections to come," Mr. Crofton, who added as the argument continued: "Are you trying to avoid the hearing of the medical officer of health?"

The R.S.M. looked up from his desk and snorted: "Don't you know there's a war on? I haven't time to read 'em now."

made the call but added that, if it's not afforded Mr. Mangan any satisfaction, he would suggest an adjournment to Dr. Graham's table.

Judge Ebd ruled that since Miss Finnermore is an official of the Board of Health, she would be allowed to give her testimony as to Dr. Graham's telephone call as evidence, subject to Mr. Mangan's objection.

Dr. Graham, his attorney, Miss Finnermore said she gave the child a hypodermic one day but was not allowed to do so on a second occasion.

Dismiss Appeal Damage Judgment

The Court of Appeal at Osgoode Hall this week dismissed with costs the appeal of Lorne Stevens of Bowmanville against the damage judgment of Mr. Justice Urquhart in a damage action, in Cobourg on October 18, 1943.

The suit, which was brought by Keith Ormslie of Bowmanville, was the result of a collision between a motor wagon and the defendant's horse and carriage, Sir George Bowmanville, on December 19, 1942.

The jury awarded Mr. Ormslie $1,000 for injuries and in favor of Ross Stevens, his employer, $1,000.11, for wages and doctor's fees paid by reason of injuries.

In the suit, Mr. H. W. Williams appeared for the defendant and W. R. Strike of Bowmanville for the plaintiff.

I had a nightmare...

I dreamed that I paid $5.00 for a haircut and $50.00 for a pair of cardboard shoes. I dreamed that we had no wartime controls on prices, profits or wages, and that we hadn't had the sense to organize the distribution of supplies all the way down the line ...

I dreamed that because everyone was making more money and spending it, prices were skyrocketing.

all the stores looked like "fire" sales... with people scrambling to buy before prices went still higher ...

picky people were buying things they didn't need, and hoarding everything they could get their hands on ...

I dreamed that everybody had to fight to get more money ... and that in this mad race; wages and salaries were falling behind.

I dreamed the hand of everyone was against his neighbour, with each of us blaming the other fellow for his troubles.

with everybody for himself ... no matter what it cost in the long run ... and no matter how it hurt the war effort.

THEN... THANK GOODNESS - I WOKE UP!

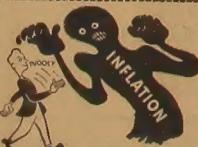

to realize with relief that I live in a country where things are sane and stable ... where the cost of living has been kept within bounds.

AS MORE WE ARE TOGETHER to realize that prices and wages—production costs and selling prices—are inseparably linked together.

to realize that without the safeguards that have headed off inflation, my nightmare might have become a reality!

to remind myself that the danger is still pressing and that we must continue to hold firm ... and that means everybody must play fair and do his part by not trying to get some temporary, fancied advantage at the expense of his fellow-Canadians.
